It is their significant research work and their enthusiastic discussions throughout the workshop that made LCPC'98 a success. May 1999 Siddhartha Chatterjee Program Chair Preface The year 1998 marked the eleventh anniversary of the annual Workshop on Languages and Compilers for Parallel Computing (LCPC), an international forum for leading research groups to present their current research activities and latest results. The LCPC community is interested in a broad range of technologies, with a common goal of developing software systems that enable real applications. Among the topics of interest to the workshop are language features, communication code generation and optimization, communication libraries, distributed shared memory libraries, distributed object systems, resource management systems, integration of compiler and runtime systems, irregular and dynamic applications, performance evaluation, and debuggers. LCPC'98 was hosted by the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill (UNC-CH) on 7 - 9 August 1998, at the William and Ida Friday Center on the UNC-CH campus. Fifty people from the United States, Europe, and Asia attended the workshop. The program committee of LCPC'98, with the help of external reviewers, evaluated the submitted papers. Twenty-four papers were selected for formal presentation at the workshop. Each session was followed by an open panel discussion centered on the main topic of the particular session.
